

Write my essay for me

Hello, dear readers of the blog. This small form of literary creation originated in France. Translated from French, the word "essay" means "experience, attempt, sketch."

This is a series of fragmented impressions, momentary observations, strokes and shades, which the author recalls for one reason or another. To better imagine how the essay is written, imagine what you are being asked to think about the word "waltz". Associations will appear in your head (dance, Vienna, old ball, school waltz, first waltz), your own memories, quotes from classical works.

In the process of working on an essay, you will understand that such an enumeration links together the pictures that have arisen, and you will complete it only when the flow of associations stops. How and when did the essay originate An essay is a prose genre of small volume and free composition. In simple words this is a composition-reasoning.

The first to write them was journalists. From newspapers and magazines, short notes gradually moved to the pages of fiction.

The great French thinkers D. Diderot and F.M. Voltaire turned the essay into the original genre of philosophy. An example of how to write such things was the famous book by M. Montaigne, "Experiments".

Essay Notes

Fashion for everything French has made the essay popular in Europe. The Age of Enlightenment brought echoes of essay to Russia. The first Russian journalists led by N.I. Novikov began to try their hand at writing notes on topical topics.

The essayist in a free form tells the reader about the social problems that concern him, shares his life experience.

Every student must know the rules for writing an essay. Short exam essays help answer questions of the text proposed for analysis, reveal creative potential, demonstrate the ability to think independently.

Types of Essays

An essay is a kind of literature that suggests that such an essay is determined by its theme and purpose. Depending on this essay it happens:

- literary critical;
- historical;
- philosophical;
- spiritual and religious.
- In form, this small genre is close to a personal diary, letter, essay (what is this?), Reviews (what is this?), Review.

What is an essay its plan and structure We will call the signs of the essay, which make it possible to understand that this, for example, is not an essay, not an article, and not a sketch.

Small volume. The author writes extensively, the reader quickly runs through the eyes.

Free structure (composition). In pure form, the works of this genre do not have a strict structure. It is allowed to start right away with the arguments, then go on to pose the problem. Or draw a conclusion at the beginning, and leave the conversation about the reasons “for dessert”.

At school, for the sake of the convenience of the reviewers and the writers themselves, it is proposed to adhere to a certain essay structure. It is as follows: statement of the problem arguments (1st, 2nd, 3rd) conclusion. The presence of a problem. Despite the fact that the plan for writing an essay has a free composition, the idea of the writer should unfold around one problem stated at the beginning of the text. All arguments voiced in the main part are required to illustrate it and smoothly bring the reader to resolution. In conclusion, it is necessary to explicitly or indirectly voice your thoughts.

Individual style. It doesn't matter what essay you write: historical or philosophical its obligatory feature should be a bright and rich language, original style. This tradition is rooted in journalism.

Individual style

The author of a newspaper article runs the risk of being forgotten immediately after reading it, so the journalist tries to make his speech memorable. Each experienced newsboy has a signature technique, a highlight.

When writing an essay, it is important to “turn on” personal charm and make your text live, not like the others.
